Joana Aderi: Vocals, Keyboard, Electronics

Joy Frempong: Vocals, Keyboard, Electronics

John Edwards: Double-Bass

Daniel Sailer: Double-Bass, Devices

Fredy Studer: Drums, Percussion

PHALL FATALE was founded in spring 2008 by drummer Fredy Studer, together with Joana Aderi, Joy Frempong, John Edwards and Daniel Sailer.

The instrumentation is eccentric: two double-basses, two female vocalists, keyboards, electronics and drums.

The individual voices of the singers merge with strident electronic sequences into the organic powerhouse of the two double-basses and drums. Powerful hardcore packets of groove and spoken word are juxtaposed with meditative soundscapes that tell stories.

The music bridges the gap between song and improvisation, the pulse presses forward - resulting in a contemporary pop aesthetic.

PHALL FATALE played concerts in Switzerland and Germany and performed at the following festivals: Moers, Schaffhausen, Krakau, Willisau, EAR WE ARE in Biel, AVANT ART FESTIVAL in Wroclaw, ONZE + in Lausanne, TAKTLOS in Zürich and METEO in Mulhouse.
